IS DEEMING INSANE?

Phases That Will Make His Trial the Most Interesting on Record.

IF IDENTIFIED AS JACK THE RIPPER

It Will Help His Case, as His Counsel Would Have Little Difficulty in Convincing a Jury That the White-chapel Murders Were the Deeds of an Irresponsible Maniac.

MELBOURNE, April 8.—It is believed that the trial of Deeming will prove one of the most interesting that has ever taken place anywhere in the world. As stated in these dispatches the defense will be insanity, and many experts will be called to testify to the species of madness to which his counsel claims he is afflicted. No denial has yet been made by the defense that Deeming did not commit all the murders attributed to him. In fact, his counsel, by his tacit admissions at the coroner's inquest, shows that he believes that his client is at least guilty of the killing with which he is charged here, but claims that owing to congenital influences he is not responsible for his homicidal mania.

Of course there are scoffers at this line of defence. They claim that in all the murders attributed to Deeming, except perhaps the Whitechapel slaugthers, there has been altogether too much method in his madness. It is thought that Deeming's counsel would be only too glad to have him positively identified as the Whitechapel monster. It would then be a much easier matter to prove that he was mentally irresponsible, for all those murders, committed apparently without the slightest reason, showed the brutal ferocity of a maniac. No alienist has yet made a special study of his case, but it is thought by many that when this is done it will be found that pre-natal influences have had much, if not everything, to do with the crimes. But of all the conjectures in his case, Deeming knows nothing. He slept well last night, but the intense nervous and mental strain is telling upon him. He can at times assume an air of carelessness and jocularly, but his face is losing its ruddy color, and this morning he was decidedly pale. In fact, despite his air of bravado at the inquest and afterward, the man appears to be breaking down. He frequently asks for stimulants. Efforts will be made to procure a prolonged adjournment of his trial in order to enable witnesses to come from England to testify as to the state of the prisoner's mind when he was a boy.

MURDERED BY ANARCHISTS.

A Polish Ecclesiastic the Victim—Two of the Assassins Blown Out Their Own Brains.

BERLIN, April 8.—A remarkable story comes from Kosciellog, a village near Inwrazlaw, a town of Prussia, province of Posen. Doctor Poninsky, a high Polish ecclesiastic, who was traveling through Kosciellog, was waylaid by four men, who were apparently waiting for him, and before he could make a single attempt to either defend himself or escape all four of them fired at him with revolvers. The doctor's body was riddled with bullets and he died almost instantly.

A number of villagers pursued the assassins, who had taken to flight, and finally brought them to bay. The assassins made a desperate fight against arrest. Some of the villagers were armed, and after they had been repeatedly fired upon they returned the shots, killing two of the men. The place in which the assassins had sought refuge from the pursuers was in a locality from which escape by retreating was not possible, and the remaining two murderers determined to sell their lives as dearly as possible. They refused to heed the demands made upon them to surrender, and undeterred by the fate of their companions they continued firing upon their would-be captors.

Finally they exhausted all their cartridges except two, one in each of their revolvers. The attacking party, none of whom had been injured, surmised that the assassins' supply of ammunition had run out, and they made a rush to capture the two men. The latter saw them coming and, preferring death to capture, they placed their revolvers to their heads and blew out their brains. The bodies were searched and on each of them was found a red ticket on which was printed the words, "Execution Committee of the Polish Anarchists."

Dr. Poninsky without doubt had by his utterances or actions incurred the enmity of the anarchists, and the four men were unquestionably appointed by the central anarchist body to murder him. The affair has caused the deepest indignation wherever the details are known, and the most strenuous efforts will be made to search out and punish the chief conspirators.

HOUSE PROCEEDINGS.

Sockless Jerry Simpson Comes Out Flat-footed for Free Trade.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 8.—There was little of interest in the proceedings of the house to-day. After a brief passage at arms between the speaker and Mr. Burrows, which was the aftermath of the more acrimonious passage which occurred a few days ago, during which Mr. Burrows was ordered to take his seat, the house quietly, in committee of the whole, resumed the consideration of the cotton bagging bill.

Mr. Hemphill spoke in favor of the bill. Mr. Simpson, of Kansas, came out flat-footed as an absolute free trader without reservation, and his admission that he had voted for the anti-Chinese bill, though believing it to be a disgrace to civilization, was an honest one. He justified his vote on the ground that the protective tariff had so disastrously affected labor in California that some measure for its relief was necessary.

Mr. Henderson, of Illinois—Do I understand that the gentleman voted for a bill which he regarded as a disgrace to civilization? Mr. Simpson—I did so; and I was compelled to do it in defense of the laboring class of the state of California, which is shut off by the hand of monopolies and the protective tariff.

The committee then rose and reported the bill to the house, and a recess was taken until 8 o'clock, the evening session to be for the consideration of private pension bills. Interest in the tariff discussion is steadily on the decline, and the attendance in the house this morning was small.

G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT.

The Bill for the Veteran's Entertainment Passes the Senate.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 8.—After the routine morning business, the consideration of the District appropriation bill was resumed, the question being upon the appropriation for entertaining upon the appropriation for entertaining the national encampment G. A. R. The question was on Mr. Cockrell's amendment to Mr. McMillan's substitute (appropriating $100,000 for the purpose) requiring the amount to be paid exclusively out of the revenues of the District of Columbia. It was rejected: yeas, 17; nays, 52.

Mr. Quay offered a resolution restricting the use of the appropriation to subsistence and quarters of the visiting soldiers, excluding those residing in the district. It was agreed to, yeas 43, nays 5.

The question was then taken on Mr. McMillan's amendment as amended, and it was agreed to; yeas 41, nays 10. The amendment as agreed to appropriates out of the United States treasury $100,000 to pay for subsistence and quarters of such honorably discharged non-resident union soldier, sailors and marines who served in the war of the rebellion as may attend as delegates or otherwise the twenty-sixth annual encampment of the G. A. R. in the city of Washington, the money to be paid and disbursed by the citizens' executive committee of Washington having charge of such reception and entertainment, under such regulations as may be prescribed by the secretary of war.

The bill was then passed, and after an executive session the senate adjourned until Monday.

CONDITION OF TRADE.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of the State of Trade.

New York, April 8.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: Another week brings additional proof of an improvement in business at many points, while slackness at a few is explained by causes obviously local and temporary.

The money markets continue abundantly supplied and easy. Two theories exist regarding the state of business which find frequent expression—that trade has disappointed expectations to some extent is obvious, and there are some who claim that a reaction has begun of unknown duration which appeared in Europe last year, and was only in part deferred here because of extraordinary crops. These have to support them unusually low prices and in some departments a shrinkage in sales. But others argue that disappointment is due to excessive expectations, and especially to the failure to take into account the great volume of indebtedness left from real estate speculation at the west and south and the influence produced by crops and financial depression abroad. These have to support them much evidence that the actual business transacted, all branches considered, is greater than ever before at this season in spite of all obstacles and complaints.

RECONSIDERED.

McFadden's Appointment Distasteful to the Steubenville Republicans.

Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer. COLUMBUS, O., April 8.—The senate has reconsidered the vote by which the appointment of Editor H. H. McFadden, of Steubenville, as member of the state board of charities was confirmed and Mr. Nichols, of Belmont, created a sensation by making such a request. When his motion prevailed, he explained his action by submitting the following telegram:

STEUBENVILLE, O., April 8, 1892.

To Hon. J. W. Nichols, State Senate.

Appointment of McFadden on board of charities a terrible mistake. It will injure the Republican labor vote of his county, as his paper is practically under boycott. Hold up confirmation, if possible, and advise me.
